

ILLUSTRATED Evening Ledger

FRIDAY
March 24, 1916

TIMELY SIDELIGHTS ON THE DAY'S OUTPUT OF NEWS FROM A THOUSAND SOURCES

FORMIDABLE GUARD SURROUNDS THE PRESIDENT ON VISIT HERE

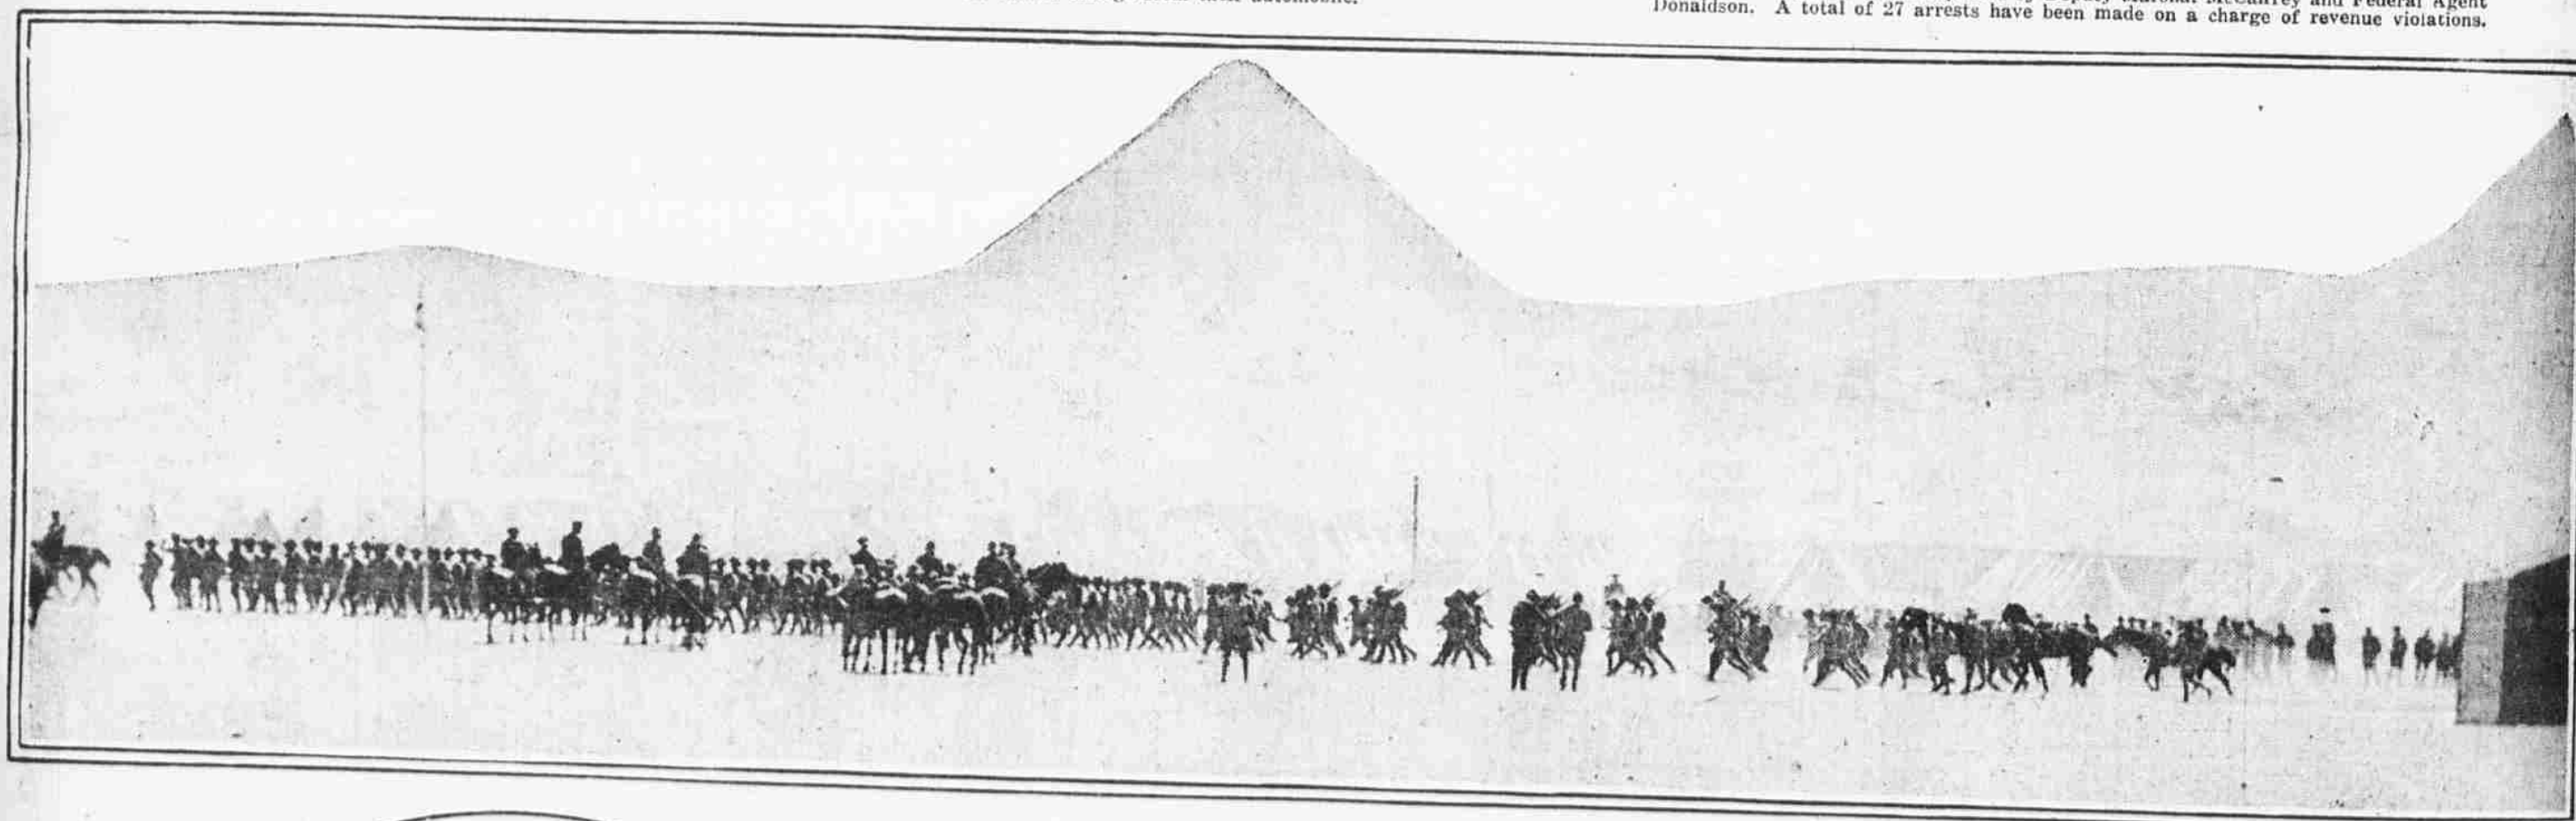

Forty mounted and reserve policemen, besides a squad of plain-clothes detectives, mingled with the crowd of 200 which waited outside the office of Dr. G. E. de Schweinitz in Walnut street yesterday to see President and Mrs. Wilson emerge from their automobile.

Photo by Ledger Photo Patrol

FEDERAL OFFICERS RAID TOBACCO SHOPS FOR ALLEGED FRAUDS

J. Finkelstein is shown being taken from his store at 991 North 2d street by Deputy Marshal Kenney, who is accompanied by Deputy Marshal McCaffrey and Federal Agent Donaldson. A total of 27 arrests have been made on a charge of revenue violations.

AUSTRALIAN MOUNTED REGIMENTS ARRIVE AT THEIR CAMP PITCHED ON THE DESERT IN THE SHADOW OF THE HISTORIC PYRAMIDS OF EGYPT

Photo by Underwood & Underwood

SMALLEST BRONCO RIDER IN THE WORLD IS PHILADELPHIAN

"Texas Jack," whose home is at 4840 North Front street, Olney, is only 11 years old, but he can twirl a lariat with the best of them. His expertness with the lasso won him a job with a Wild West show.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE IN CHARGE OF DARBY TABERNACLE REVIVAL

Left to right, bottom row: E. M. Hoag, George Grayson, the Rev. W. P. Nicholson, Prof. Hemminger, W. A. Gray, Lance Latham, B. F. Maguire. Above: W. A. Bernhardt, A. J. Kellerman, John B. Simpson, Jesse Fox and Milton Staley. Evangelist Nicholson will close his meetings this week.